CEO MESSAGE

This past year was one of transition for the Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame. We were unable to come to terms on a new lease with our landlord, Armco Capital. So the Hall, which had been located in the old Trade Centre for the past 15 years, closed its doors on Sept. 30th. An extensive search is on for a new home, and we fully intend to emerge from this as the finest Hall of its kind in the country.

In the meantime, the Hall will exist virtually at nsshf.com, where all artifacts, inductees, programming and updated staff contact info can be found. The Hall will continue to offer its award-winning “Future Hall of Famers” education program to students across the province. And the annual Induction Night is scheduled to return in November of 2021.

We will continue to honour and preserve the legacies of Nova Scotians who have made significant contributions to sport in the province. And we will make sure these stories are told to Nova Scotia youth, so that they may see what can be accomplished with hard work and a healthy dose of humility.

OUR MUSEUM ACTIVITIES

- The Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame has created a free self-guided walking tour for you to explore all the historic sporting sites. Follow the route online (<https://nsshf.com/halifax-sport-heritage-walk/>) and we will guide you around Halifax to some of the most important sport heritage sites in the city. This tour is now a Handpicked Halifax experience with Discover Halifax.
- The Hall of Fame unveiled a new temporary exhibit in summer 2019 that featured a selection of editorial cartoonist Bruce MacKinnon's greatest sport cartoons. The exhibit of original sports-themed cartoons from MacKinnon's many years at The Chronicle Herald is titled "Sports Illustrated: The Nova Scotia Edition." The exhibit will be travelling in 2021 and will be on display at STFX University's Art Gallery from late April to early September.
- From May 22 to June 12, 2020, 72 participants got busy walking, running and moving in "Victory Lap," the Hall of Fame's first-ever virtual fun run. This virtual event encouraged participants to stay active during the COVID lockdown, while also raising $2,500 for Kids Help Phone. Participants completed and logged kilometres with the goal of collectively accumulating enough kilometres to go all the way around Nova Scotia— the ultimate victory lap! The incredible "Victory Lap" participants logged enough kilometres to complete three laps of the province. You can find more information about the event at <https://nsshf.com/victory-lap-virtual-fun-run/>
- During the COVID lockdown, the Hall of Fame hosted and recorded several online Q&A events with athletes, musicians and public figures. Check them out at <https://nsshf.com/events/> or on our YouTube channel. Interviewees included athletes Jennifer Jones, Jody Shelley, Ellie Black, and Kia Nurse; musicians Lennie Gallant and Murray Mclauchlan; and, news anchor Peter Mansbridge.

OUR EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Future Hall of Famers Education Program presented to 80 schools— both at the Hall of Fame museum and through visits to schools around the province— between Fall 2019 and the start of shutdowns due to the COVID-19 pandemic. After mid-March 2020, the program delivered six virtual school visits. All in all, the education program has reached over 8,000 youth in the past 12 months.

The Hall of Fame was able to present to schools and organizations from one end of Nova Scotia to the other, including North End Halifax, Spryfield, Rawdon, Kennetcook, New Ross, Mount Uniacke, Port Hawkesbury, Waycomomagh, Beaver Bank, Dutch Settlement, Coldbrook and more.

The program engaged many guest speakers, including Hall of Famers and sport heroes: Mary Beth Bowie, Ted Upshaw, Hubert Earle, Steve Giles, Lindsay and Karlee Burgess, Tracy Cameron, Paul Tingley, Karen Furneaux, Mickey Fox, and Ricky Anderson.

Highlights of the past year included bilingual presentations with Nova Scotia athlete Marnie O'Brien and Hall of Famer Karen Furneaux, Karen Furneaux's P.O.W.E.R. Program for sport groups, and a partnership with Lacrosse Nova Scotia (LNS). The lacrosse partnership allowed the Hall of Fame to work with LNS and the Halifax Thunderbirds to visit schools and give presentations on the history of Lacrosse, to provide lacrosse lessons during gym classes, and to donate ten lacrosse sticks and balls to each school visited.

The Future Hall of Famers Education Program has had to postpone in-person visits for the time being, but the Hall of Fame still wants to have our sport heroes visit Nova Scotia youth virtually. The Hall has started Hero Chats, which have sport heroes present on topics that are relevant issues to students today. All topics have pre and post chat activities that are curriculum-based for each grade level. This is a great opportunity for students to hear from Nova Scotia sport heroes about pressing topics and have the chance to ask questions and interact with some of the best athletes our province has to offer. This program is also completely free! The Hall was excited to launch Hero Chats in November with a presentation from the Halifax Wanderers on leadership. A chat with Paralympic gold medallists Andrew Haley and Paul Tingley on paralympic sport, and a virtual visit from Canada's top gymnast Ellie Black on the topic of mental health and resilience are scheduled for the coming weeks.

The graphic features a blue background with white and red triangles. A white speech bubble contains the logo for 'FUTURE HALL OF FAMERS Hero Chats' and the text 'EDUCATIONAL CONVERSATIONS WITH NOVA SCOTIA HEROES'. Below the speech bubble, it says 'REGISTRATION NOW OPEN' and 'CONTACT CHRISTINA FOR MORE INFO (902) 404 3343 / CHRISTINA@NSSHF.COM'.

NOVA SCOTIA SPORT HALL OF FAME WINS TWO INTERNATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS AWARDS

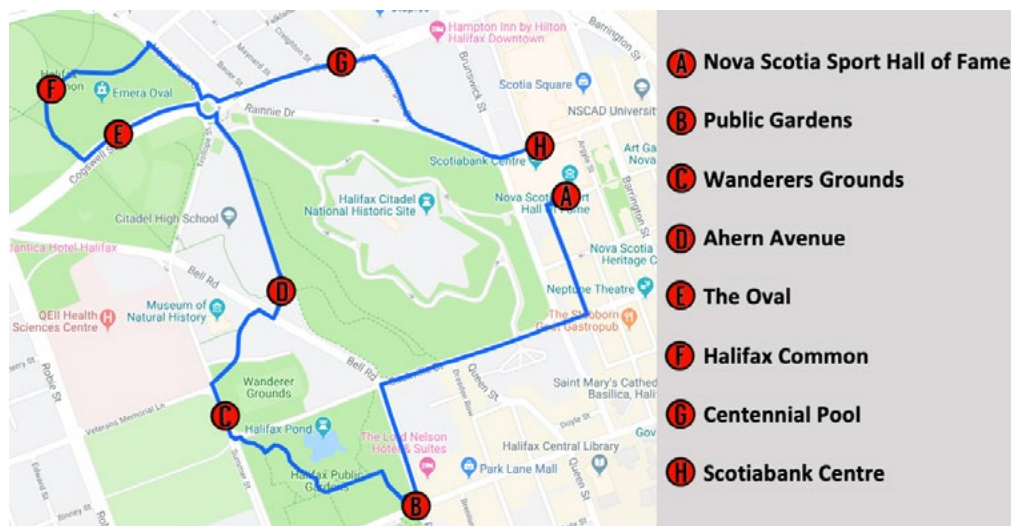

The Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame is the recipient of two communications awards from the International Sports Heritage Association (ISHA).

The awards, called ISHYs, recognize excellence in publications, exhibits and education programming. ISHYs are awarded annually, with six award categories. The NSSHF competed against sports museums, halls of fame and sports heritage organizations from across North America, Europe, Asia and Australia.

The NSSHF won awards for Non-Book Publications and Marketing Materials (Print Materials).

The NSSHF earned the Non-Book Publication award for its Halifax Sport Heritage Walk booklet, which provides three self-guided walking routes through Halifax with information on various sites of significance to Nova Scotia sport history. The booklet was created in-house and is currently available digitally on the NSSHF website (<https://nsshf.com/halifax-sport-heritage-walk/>).

The Marketing Materials award was presented to the NSSHF for the 2020 Gold Club package booklet, which was designed with the help of Kelly Devoe. This booklet is also available digitally online (<https://nsshf.com/gold-club/>).

HALL OF FAME INDUCTION UPDATE

NSSHF Announces New Inductee Class and Postpones Induction Night

The Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame is pleased to announce its next inductee class. Four athletes, one team and two builders will be celebrated for their outstanding contributions to Nova Scotia sport.

These inductees include two Olympians, two stand-out players from legendary teams, two beloved builders who both made a difference for athletes of different abilities, and one team that won an iconic Canadian championship.

The athletes who will be enshrined are Olympic paddler and three-time World Championship bronze medallist Richard Dalton; three-time Olympian and Commonwealth gold-medallist rower Todd Hallett; star pitcher and four-time National Senior Men's Fastball medal-winner Robert Putnam; and, Two-time All-Canadian and CIAU basketball scoring and rebounding leader Ted Upshaw. The Hall will also welcome Mark Dacey's 2004 Brier-winning curling team. In the builder category, Special Olympics coach, team manager and mission staff member Cathy Mason, along with Olympic and Paralympic sailing coach Brian Todd, will also be inducted.

The Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame has decided to postpone Induction Night 2020 until fall 2021.

The Hall of Fame has chosen not to hold an induction ceremony this year due to the uncertainties caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, and has decided to aim for the traditional in-person Induction Night next year, rather than replacing the event with an online ceremony.
