On Friday, November 15, Induction Night 2019 will honour the following individuals at the Halifax Convention Centre.

Jackie Barrett, Power Lifting, Spryfield: Barrett has dominated the Canadian Special Olympics power lifting competitions throughout his career with 20 gold medals, and he has represented Canada well at the World Special Olympics competition with an incredible 13 first-place finishes. He is our first Special Olympics inductee.

Justine Colley, Basketball, East Preston: Colley has the distinction of being the all-time leading scorer in the history of CIS women's basketball. Her impressive play earned her the title of CIS National Player of the Year twice, and she led the Saint Mary's Huskies to four consecutive AUS championship titles.

Suzanne Muir, Soccer, Dartmouth: Muir was named AUS Rookie of the Year and a two-time AUS MVP during her time playing with the Saint Mary's Huskies women's soccer team. Twice named Athlete of the Year at Saint Mary's, Muir went on to play with Canada's national women's team from 1992 to 1999.

Jody Shelley, Hockey, Yarmouth: Shelley honed his skills with the Yarmouth PeeWee, Bantam and Midget AAA hockey teams before scoring a spot on the Halifax Mooseheads as a "walk-on" player in 1994. Easily the most popular player in Mooseheads history, Shelley went on to have a 14-year NHL career. He played in over 625 NHL games with Columbus, San Jose, New York and Philadelphia.

Morgan Williams, Rugby, Cole Harbour: Williams is, without a doubt, the most accomplished rugby player Nova Scotia has ever produced. With the Rugby 15's team, he has represented Canada 58 times—a record for a Canadian scrum half— including three World Cup appearances. He also captained the team at the 2007 World Cup.

Henry Boutilier, Baseball, Glace Bay: Boutilier has four decades of coaching experience. He managed the Glace Bay Colonels to the Canadian Major Little League Championship in 1987, 1988, 1991, 1994 and 2003, and the Cape Breton Dodgers to the Canadian Big League Championship in 2009 and 2010.

Roger Caulfield, Basketball, Springhill: Caulfield has 32 years' experience as a basketball official at the provincial, national and international levels. Within the AUS alone he has officiated over 1,000 games and 24 championship tournaments.

Bruce's Corner

with CEO
Bruce Rainnie

Under the expert leadership of Chair Mark Smith, our Hall of Fame selection committee recently met for close to three hours of spirited discussion/debate. The result – the Class of 2019!

In short, I think we can accurately say that on Friday, November 15th, we will induct the best female basketball player, the best female soccer player, the best rugby player, the best basketball official, the best little league baseball coach, and the greatest Special Olympics athlete the province has ever produced. Throw in the most popular Halifax Mooseheads player of all time, and you have something truly remarkable. And we will make history. To date, the Hall has never inducted an athlete who competed in Special Olympics. That will soon change. Speaking of change...

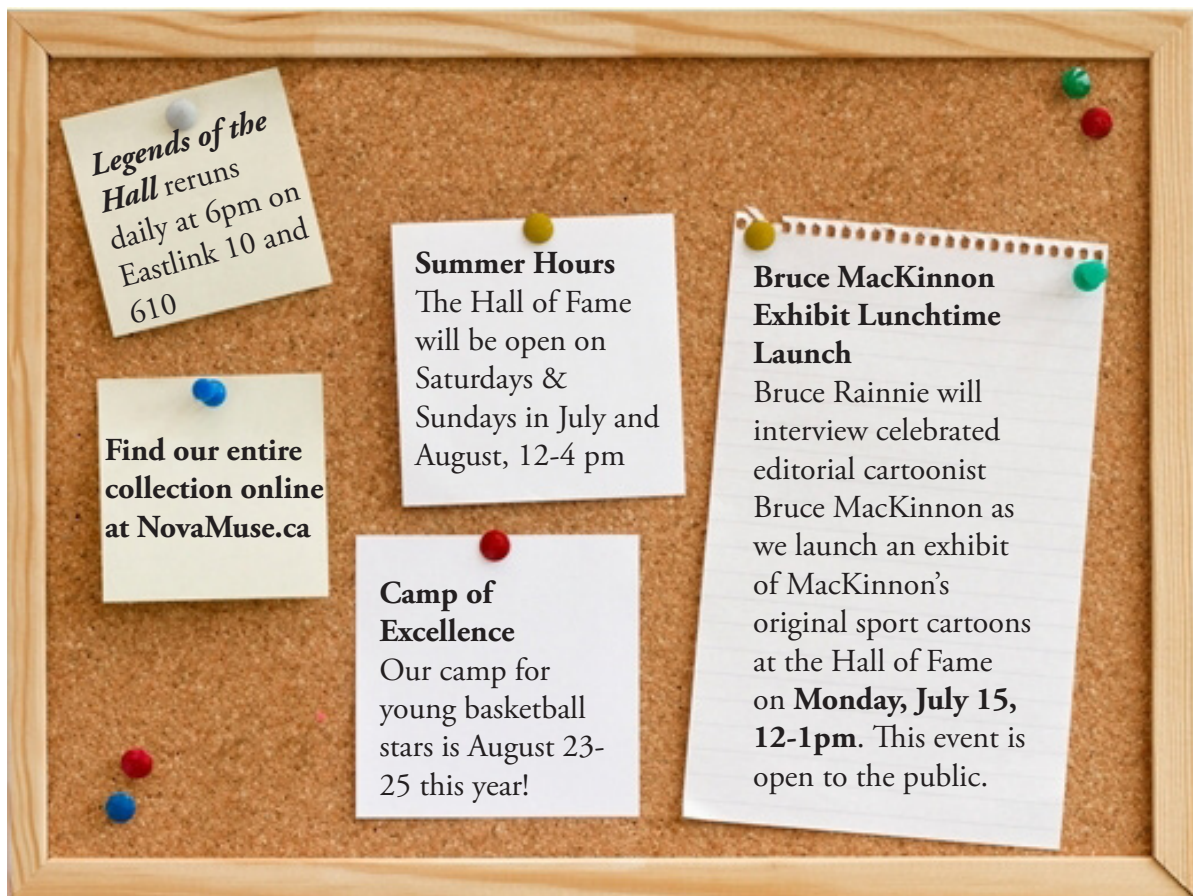

It's been just over two years since I started work with the Nova Scotia Sport Hall of Fame, and the one comment I've heard probably more than any other is: "You know, your website isn't the easiest to navigate."

We totally agree, and developing a new, more user-friendly website has been a priority of ours for quite some time now. It is not, however, a quick or easy process. We want hundreds of inductees and thousands of artifacts to be easily accessible for you and, as you can appreciate, getting everything properly lined up is a labour-intensive process. But, we are getting closer by the day. I am confident in saying that our new website will be a pleasure to visit – easy on the eyes, smartphone compatible, and very simple to find what you're looking for.

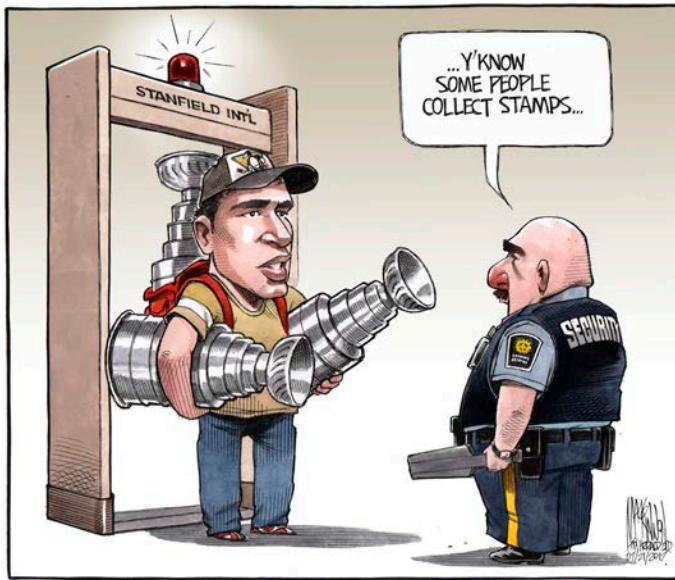

Stay tuned for an official launch, date TBA, but soon!

In the meantime, a little Nova-Scotia themed sports trivia to keep your brain busy:

Q: What Nova Scotia-born player has scored the most career points in the NHL?

Exciting New Temporary Exhibit

His work has been a daily fixture in many Nova Scotians' lives for decades-- Bruce MacKinnon brings humorous, witty and poignant commentary to the pages of The Chronicle Herald with his skillful editorial cartoons. The Hall of Fame will be unveiling a new temporary exhibit in summer 2019 that features a selection of MacKinnon's greatest sport cartoons. We are very pleased to be able to work with MacKinnon, The Chronicle Herald, St. F.X. and private lenders to share this incredible collection of original drawings. Expect to take a stroll down memory lane with familiar faces and newsworthy moments that are equally thought provoking and amusing. The exhibit opens in July. Join us for the official launch with a lunchtime Q&A with Bruce MacKinnon on Monday, July 15, 12-1 pm.
