

NOVA SCOTIA SPORT HALL OF FAME

“Hall of Fame Education Program in Full Swing”

STAKEHOLDERS' UPDATE:

Former NHL star, Halifax Mooseheads General Manager and Hall of Famer Cam Russell speaks to 90 Clayton Park Jr. High students about hard work, dedication and setting goals.

EDUCATION PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- February has been one of the busiest months for the Hall of Fame education program, with 15 HRM school presentations to over 2,400 children. March will continue the trend with 15 more school bookings.

- We have targeted several areas where there are students that can benefit from the program's important lifestyle messages and motivational keynote speakers.
- In late March the program will hit the road for 10 weeks, visiting schools across Cape Breton, the Annapolis Valley, the South Shore and the Fundy region.
- Every teacher has been informed about our program through the teachers' union provincial newsletter (click here to read, go to page 7) and the distribution of 1,000 promotional videos.
- Two great videos have been produced—one with World Champion kayaker Karen Furneaux and one with gold medalist Paralympic swimmer Andrew Haley—providing inspiring messages when guest speakers are not available for presentations. (Click here to watch Karen) (Click here to watch Andrew)
- The Hall of Fame Fox Harb'r Invitational Golf Tournament held annually in the second week of September raises important funds to support the Hall of Fame education program. This year's tournament is September 11-12.
